Recognizing and Responding to the Ted Bundys

For Law Enforcement Executives, Detectives/Investigators, and Patrol.

Thursday, 19 Apr 2012 in Denver, CO.

Since psychopaths are pathological liars and their every interaction with others is self-serving and strategic. Seasoned investigators and forensic psychologists can have great difficulty dealing with them. Basically, they're always faced with the liar's paradox yet still need to get useful and true information from them.

Learn better investigator skills; add better detective skills, and be safer in Law Enforcement with this knowledge. Arm yourself with the ability to better grasp predictive behavior clues and clues to catching criminal behavior in an individual. Break thru the barriers psychopaths use in your contact with them and during interviews.

Stats: Estimates of 1 in 100 of general population could be diagnosed as a Psychopath!
Alarmingly... 50% of Police Officers shot in the line of duty where shot by a Psychopath!

Presented by Dr. Dorothy McCoy, author of The Manipulative Man. Dr. McCoy has spent 15 years in private practice as a psychotherapist and consultant to Law Enforcement agencies. Dr. McCoy's Specialties include but are not limited to: Trauma, Leadership, Ethics, Behavior Prediction, Mentoring, and Advanced Instruction. She is also well known for creating the Law Enforcement Master Instructor program for the South Carolina Criminal Justice Academy in Columbia, South Carolina.

Introducing Dr. Dorothy McCoy:

May we just say... she is the REAL McCoy!

Dr. McCoy has an impressive career and her background is in psychotherapy, law enforcement, pre-employment assessment, research, higher education administration, behavior modification and instruction. Dr. McCoy was a South Carolina State Constable and later a Cold Case Volunteer for the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Dr. McCoy went on to be contracted by the state of South Carolina to create a new modern Master Instructor Program using Problem Based Learning practices – at the time it was only the third such Master Instructor Program for Law Enforcement in the nation. Dr. Dorothy McCoy is a member of the Society of Police and Criminal Psychology, the American Counseling Association and she holds a NOVA Certification and is a National Certified Counselor, a Diplomat with the American Academy of Experts in Traumatic Stress, Sub-Committee Member on Women in Police Leadership for Police Futurists and a Licensed professional Counselor (SC). Dr. McCoy is a published author and has been consulted as an expert by newspapers, radio, magazines, television and it's our pleasure to host her for this one of a kind seminar.
